Boston, Mass., Oct. 19.—Herbert W.
Gurney of Marion, known in that section as the "Cape Cod Giant," was arrested today for failing to report after being summoned in the national army.

Gurney boasted in the town of Marion "If they want me, they will have to go some." Federal officials in Boston sent a telegram to Chief of Police Blankenship of Marion, stating "get him and bring him in."
Within an hour the chief had arrived at the federal building with Gurney and in another hour the "giant" was on his way to the cas-tament at Ayer.

GOVERNMENT SEAT WILL MOVE TO MOSCOW

(By Associated Press)
Petrograd, Oct. 19.—M. Kishkin, minister of public welfare, announced today that the Russian government was soon to move to Moscow. It is stated that the move will be made in the near future.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP GERMAN SHIP IS FRUSTRATED

Federal Agents Allege That Waltman
Wanted Mechanic to Board Vessel For Purpose of Destroying It

TWO BILLION DOLLAR MARK NOW IN SIGHT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 19.—Treasury officials announced today that the two billion dollar mark would be reached in the second liberty loan by Saturday night.

The approximate total up until today was placed at $1,750,000,000.
The officials also stated that they were of the opinion that the five billion dollar mark would be reached by the time of closing, Oct. 27.

PRICES IN THE LIVESTOCK MARKET DROP

(By Associated Press)
Pittsburg, Penn., Oct. 19.—Prices in the livestock market showed a decided slump today. Hogs that sold for $12.65 per hundred last week, fell to $16.50 today. In the retail market bacon still holds at 50 and 60 cents per pound.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 19.—An alleged attempt to blow up one of the German ships, seized by the government at the severing of diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States, is believed to have been frustrated by federal agents today.

Charles Waltman, a Scandinavian, is under arrest. The police allege that Waltman attempted to have a mechanic board the vessel for the purpose of destroying it.

Waltman is employed as a pantry-man on the yacht owned by Harry Payne Whitney, now at anchor in this harbor.

The ship is moored at one of the Brooklyn docks where repairs are being made preparatory to having it listed in the United States trans-Atlantic service.

NO DANGER OF LOCAL COAL SHORTAGE

Serious Situation Confronts the New England States

President Fred M. Siz and Vice President F. W. Hartford of the local Chamber of Commerce, who were appointed by Gov. Keyes to attend the New England governors' conference at Boston, yesterday, when representatives from all sections of New England were present at a coal conservation meeting.

Ominous predictions of a soft coal shortage in New England which will amount to 6,000,000 tons Jan. 1, and perhaps grow worse, with attendant shutting down of factories, unemployment for thousands, and a lack of hard coal for heating purposes in homes and institutions, were most solemnly laid before the war conference of New England governors, statesmen, business men and industrial leaders at the State House, Boston, yesterday. Immediate action at Washington was undertaken to save New England from hardship.

The local representatives on their return from Boston stated that the local coal situation would be relieved due to the fact that the government has taken over the control of tugs and will soon regulate the shipment of coal.

Previously the tugs have made trips towing one barge to its port of consignment. In the future the tug boats will work as a unit and will tow all barges regardless of their owners to their destination.

An illustration of how the local situation will be relieved is: The tugs have been previously owned by private concerns, a Portsmouth coal company ordered a barge of coal, the trip was made direct to this port with a single barge in tow.

With the government in control of the water coal shipments, tugs will call at different ports and pick up all barges that may be assigned to the same port until a tow of perhaps four to six barges is made up regardless of the owners.

TO OBSERVE LIBERTY LOAN DAY

October 24 has been designated as the big day to drive home to the people their duty as citizens of America. A meeting of several citizens and members of the Chamber of Commerce was held at the board rooms this noon to talk over plans. It is proposed to have a big gathering on Market Square that evening.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS BECOME A "LAND GRABBER"

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 19.—During the past three years the British government has gradually developed into a "land grabber" on a scale which exceeds all previous performances. Its total seizures and purchases of real estate, since the war began, aggregate more than 150,000 acres, divided among thousands of pieces of land, some only a few square feet, others containing many thousands of acres.

This has been quite a simple operation, as for war purposes, the government has behind it a comprehensive law called the Defense of the Realm Act. This entitles the authorities to take over property of all kinds and convert it to their own use, leaving the question of compensation to be decided afterwards.

The whole question of taking over other people's property soon became so complicated, however, that a special department was constituted to operate it, called the war department lands directorate. This department deals with all properties either temporarily occupied or permanently acquired, and is responsible for the management of all such properties.

Some idea of the quantity of the work which it has to perform may be gathered from the statement that the mere quartering of troops necessitates rentals aggregating $12,000,000 a year. When lands or buildings are occupied, a claim for compensation is made by the owner. The variety and extent of such claims is astonishing, and the sums involved vary from a few dollars to several millions.

KITTERY

Kittery, Oct. 19.—The Kittery Red Cross wishes to urge all the people of the town to show their interest in the men in the training camps, the soldiers and the sailors by making up Christmas packages for these men who will be away from their homes at the holiday season. The Kittery organization has been asked to furnish 190 of these Christmas packages. It wants help from all parts of the town in doing this work. This is a very practical way for those who have been unable to do the sewing or knitting to help in the wide work of making the men more comfortable and happy on the Christmas season. Sixty-five of these packages must be ready by the 10th of November and the rest by the 10th of December. Directions for making them may be obtained from Mrs. G. L'Amoureux, Mrs. Oscar Clark or Mrs. Samuel Caswell.

The Ladies Aid held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the vestry of the Government Street church. The ladies sewed for the Christmas sale, which is to be a "Military Fair" this year. Plans were made for a social in November to return the ten cents and money earned with it, which promises to be a very unique affair. Refreshments of coffee and fancy crackers were served. The hostesses were Mrs. Ruby Littlefield and Mrs. William Mife.

Mrs. Henry B. Shaw and Miss Arvilla Shaw of Central street passed Thursday at Kittery Point.

Several of the teachers in town are attending the Teachers' Convention at Bangor, now in session.

Postmaster Natt Hubbard was a visitor in Kennebunk on Thursday.

Miss Annie Knight is in Manchester, N. H., today attending the Teachers' Convention.

The weekly prayer meeting of the First M. E. church will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. Hattie Pierce. The pastor will speak on "The Book of Life."

Hereafter the weekly sewing meetings of the Red Cross will be held in Odd Fellows' hall instead of at the Methodist vestry.

Mrs. David Mead has returned to her home in Camden, N. J., after a visit with Mrs. John Smith of Walker street.

The regular choir rehearsal of the Second Christian church will be held tonight at the vestry.

The social committee of the Epworth League will meet tonight with Miss Arvilla M. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chick of Kittery Depot have returned from a visit to relatives in Portland, and Mr. Chick has resumed his duties at the drug store of R. M. Clark.

Mrs. Albert Brown and little son of the Intervene are visiting relatives in Bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Burnham and little daughter, Bernice, of Alfred, have been passing a few days in town.

Miss Marie Sherburne of North Berwick has been appointed district deputy president of the First District of Rockeekah lodge.

The Ladies' Circle of the Second Christian church held a sale of fancy work, aprons, and cooked food at the vestry on Thursday afternoon.

Kittery Grange held its regular meeting on Thursday evening at Odd Fellows' hall. A very pleasing program had been prepared by the lecturer, Mrs. Arthur Chesley, after which a salad and ice cream supper was served. There was a good attendance of members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory R. Currier and daughter, Clara, of the Intervene are passing a few days in town.

Mrs. Alfred Goggins of Rogers road is passing the week in Portland and Boston.

EXETER

Exeter, Oct. 19.—President Walter B. Farmer and Agent Ray B. Dues of the Rockingham County Farmers' association, have met with the local merchants and decided to hold a three days harvest carnival, beginning on Nov. 1, the day of the annual meeting.

In order to show the farmers that they are willing to do their part in bringing prosperity to Rockingham county, they will offer the farmers an opportunity to buy groceries, clothing, shoes and supplies for the coming winter at a reduced price.

Exeter's patriotic rally was held yesterday afternoon and last evening in the town hall. The afternoon session consisted of a district meeting under the auspices of the Woman's committee, Council of National Defense, when the subject was "Woman's Part in the War." The speakers being Miss Louise P. Glanton, state home demonstration leader, who spoke on the food emergency, and Mrs. Wesley Adams of Londonderry, wife of the master of the state grange.

In the evening there was a rousing mass meeting in the hall at which Professor William A. Francis, chairman of the committee on public safety, presided. The speakers were Chas. W. Tobey of Manchester, a member of the state Liberty Loan committee, Judge Henry A. Shute of the Exeter municipal court, and well known author, Rev. Patrick J. Scott, pastor of St. Patrick's church, and others. Special music was given by a community chorus, led by the superintendent of schools, Mrs. S. Brooks.

Rev. Josiah P. Dickerman of Malden will have charge of the prayer meeting at the First Congregational church this evening and will also preach there Sunday morning.

Arrangements are being made at the Methodist church for a series of meetings to commence next week, October 23, the preacher being Rev. C. J. Fowler, a former pastor. He will conduct a convention for the advancement of biblical holiness. He will be assisted by other preachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Colecord and three children will leave shortly to visit relatives in California.

RYE NEWS

Rye, Oct. 19.—This morning service at the Congregational church next Sunday, October 21, will be a patriotic meeting, complying with the request of the secretary of the treasury made to all the churches of New England.

At ten o'clock the church bell will be rung for ten minutes. At 10:45 the meeting will begin and at 11 o'clock the choir and congregation will join in singing The Star Spangled Banner. Rev. Mr. Plagg, the pastor will speak on American Liberty and What It Cost. The service will close with the singing of America. The Junior Order of United American Mechanics and the Boy Scouts are invited to attend in a body and occupy seats in the front. The members of the Rye Red Cross will also attend in a body. Members of the Junior Order are requested to meet at 10 o'clock at the town hall on Sunday morning and march to the church.

Fred C. Horner, who conducts a laundry at Biddeford, Me., was here on Friday renewing old acquaintances.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it! Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderuff. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderuff and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderuff dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderuff is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just spend a few cents for a bottle of Danderuff or toilet counter and try it as directed.

ELIOT

Eliot, Oct. 19.—Mrs. True Canney, for many years a resident of Kittery, but who with her husband has made her home for the past year in Brockton, Mass., with her daughter, Mrs. Canney, has had the great misfortune to break her hip. Mrs. Canney was on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Roy Karman in Laconia, and while on the street in the evening failed to see a step, over which she fell, dislocating her hip. Mrs. Canney is now in the hospital at Laconia, where everything is being done to promote her welfare. Her many friends in this locality wish for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Marjorie Fernald has been visiting her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Brooks who is teaching in North Woodstock, N. H.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry I. Durgin were visitors in Portland last week.

Mrs. Mattie Noyes was the hostess at the meeting of the Booster club held Tuesday afternoon.

Alber W. Nowell attended the convention held by the Knights of Pythias in Portland last week.

Miss Abbie Brown has returned home after passing the summer at the Goldenrod, York Beach.

Miss Lizzie M. Hemlock is the guest of Mrs. Walter C. Cole in Portsmouth.

Irving Davis is enjoying a leave of absence from his duties at the navy yard.

The Congregational church society held its annual meeting in the vestry last Tuesday evening and elected the same board of officers that served last year.

Ray Fernald, our mail carrier, is taking his annual vacation. Fred S. Nelson is acting as substitute.

Mrs. William Morgridge was a Dover visitor last week.

Wallace Shapleigh narrowly escaped serious injury last Saturday while working on the road with his team near the Advent church. He turned out to allow two other heavy work teams to pass and was seized with an attack of vertigo, in which he is subject, falling from his seat to the roadway. When assistance reached him he was bleeding freely from several cuts about his head, and his shoulder and arm received painful injury. A doctor was called who cared for his wounds and he was taken to his home where he is getting along as well as could be expected.

It is reported that Mr. Minard who sold his place to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams of Gardiner, will occupy the Richard Hemlock house this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion P. Willis and the latter's mother, Mrs. H. S. Nelson, motored to the White Mountains last Saturday to make a brief stay.

Charles Partridge of Portsmouth is soon to move his family into the house owned by the late Henry P. Spinnery.

Mrs. Smith and children of Portsmouth visited her sisters here recently.

Rev. Charles Smith, the new pastor of the Advent church will be formally installed the first Sunday in November.

Mrs. Frank Spiny of Portsmouth entertained the Ladies' Circle connected with the Advent church, at her home Thursday afternoon.

George Staples has returned home from the Portsmouth hospital where he has been undergoing surgical treatment.

A business meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church was held this week in the vestry to make arrangements for the annual sale. Fred S. Tetherly is quite ill at his home in town.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dixon Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Tuttle are entertaining Rev. Charles Smith and family until they can procure a house for occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Foss were Dover visitors Saturday.

The Red Cross auxiliary held its weekly meeting in Epworth hall Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice S. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Levenseller made an auto trip last week to the latter's camp down in Maine.

Mrs. Nettie McPhail was the weekend guest of her mother, Mrs. R. F. Dixon.

Miss Helen Ramsburg and brother Owen of Somersworth were recent visitors in town.

A very pretty wedding occurred in Eliot at high noon Saturday, when Miss Olga Stone of New Haven, Ct., became the bride of Leon P. Spinnery, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Spinnery.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Irving Barnes, pastor of the Advent church, Portsmouth, the single ring service being used. The bride's gown was of white lace over satin with corsage bouquet of white roses. The couple was unattended, and only the relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The happy event took place at the home of the Farmer road, which had been fitted up for the occupancy of the young couple and was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

A dainty lunch of chicken salad, sandwiches, fancy cakes, coffee and ice cream was served, at the conclusion of which the bride's cake was cut and served. The groom is a graduate of Colby college and is now superintendent of the schools in Eliot and Kittery. For two years previous he was principal of the Eliot high school. That the young couple may have many years of happiness is the wish of their large circle of friends.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

TAKE A GLASS OF BALTS: IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER TROUBLES YOU

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice; combined with lithium and has been used to flush and stimulate the kidneys also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure; thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

RUSSIAN FLEET BOTTLED UP IN MOON BAY

German Superior Force Guard Escape to Gulf of Riga or Bay of Finland. Old Russian Battleship Sunk

(By Associated Press)
Apparently a contingent of the Russian fleet, in all about twenty ships are bottled up in Moon Sound by a superior fleet of the Germans and their escape north to the Bay of Finland or south to the Gulf of Riga is cut off.

The Russians with a fleet which consists of three old fashioned battleships and a few modern cruisers and destroyers, gave battle to the Germans off the Gulf of Riga, but the Germans with a much superior force, and with modern dreadnoughts stood off out of range of Russian guns and rained a torrent of shot into the fleet. The Slava, a battleship relic of the Russo-Japanese war, was hit several times and sunk, her crew being taken off by a Russian destroyer.

The fleet then withdrew into Moon Bay and the Germans, quick to see their advantage, began an intense assault upon Moon Island, which they finally captured at the same time distributing their fleet so that the exit to the bay to the Bay of Finland on the north and the Gulf of Riga on the south was barred.

Already the Germans have attempted to force the passage, but they have been held back by the Russian guns and shore batteries but for how long is uncertain. Among the German fleet are two dreadnoughts, whose powerful guns so outrage the Russian fleet that they could not possibly stand and give battle. It is possible that these big ships may not be able to navigate in the more shallow water and that the Russians may hold the lighter ships off.

With the victory over the Russians comes the news of mutiny in the German navy at Ostend and the mutiny and fighting between the German and Austrian sailors in Ostend are reported to have refused duty on board the German submarines and to have mutinied and thrown officers overboard. In the Adriatic the Austrian sailors have revolted against the treatment of the officers and the food and several officers have been killed. There has been fighting between the sailors of the German and Austrian submarines, owing to the overbearing attitude of the Germans and it had resulted in several bad fights. So great has the trouble been that the German submarine base has been sent from Pola to a point further down the coast.

On land there has not been any engagement of note. There is a continuous artillery duel in Flanders but nothing that would indicate that the British or French forces are to renew the drive.

RETAILERS HOLDING PRICES UP

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 18.—Food Administrator Hoover announced tonight that the high point has been reached in food prices and that from now on there should be a drop in prices of most commodities.

He said that there was not as much drop in the retail prices as in the wholesale, in other words that the retailers were not dropping prices as they should. To correct this the Food Administration will in the future give the wholesale prices of the different commodities in the various cities and the public will be asked to see that the retail dealers drop their prices accordingly as the wholesale prices drop. Under the law the food administrator has not the power to control the retailers, but sentiment is expected to do this.

As an illustration he said that beef was selling now in Chicago at 14 1/2 cents a pound against 15 1/2 in July, while the average retail price of round steak was 31 cents, as compared with 27 cents last July.

The best white flour is being sold wholesale at from $10 to $10.75 a barrel, while the average retail price is $13.75. Sugar is being sold wholesale despite the shortage at 8 to 8 1/2 cents a pound, and the public are warned not to pay any more for sugar than they have been paying.

TO PROSECUTE PRO GERMAN WORKERS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 18.—Active steps are being taken to prosecute the pro-German workers who are active in several states against the liberty bond. Sec. McAdoo of the Treasury tonight telegraphed instructions to have all banks where German pressure had been brought to bear to prevent them handling the bond, to report the circumstances and he has promised that they will be prosecuted at once.

The Department of Justice today began an investigation with a view to prosecution.

The nation's answer to the attempt to stop the loan was the greatest sales during the loan. There are now over $1,750,000,000 subscribed and the returns are coming very fast, so much so that the two billion mark should be reached shortly.

BOY 13 YEARS A PRISONER WAR AS PUNISHMENT FOR SINS

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 18.—A thirteen-year-old boy, Lucien Busiere, who had spent three years in a German prison camp, arrived here today on a British steamship on his way to his home near St. Louis. The Germans do not treat the French children—captives unkindly, he said, but there is not enough to eat and they are suffering for lack of food. Lucien showed the effects of having lived on a curtailed diet.

The boy is a son of Theophile Busiere, a Missouri farmer, who was born in France and is a naturalized American citizen. Lucien came home under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sedgwick, Red Cross war workers, of Stockbridge, Mass. Mr. Sedgwick will take the boy to St. Louis. In England Lucien was searched by British authorities, who said the Germans had been doing successful spy work through sending children out of Germany.

BULGARIA.

Bulgaria lately has been earnestly advertising her desire for peace. She still adheres to Germany and Austria, but has let it be known that she isn't much interested in their war aims. She has a big slice of Serbia and another of Roumania. Now she is weary of war and full of fine sentiments. She talks of peace for everybody. What she really wants is peace for herself.

The moving cause of all her peace talk is the fact that Bulgaria is woefully afraid of a sound thrashing and deprivation of her conquests if the war lasts into next summer. The Allies have everything pretty well lined up to finish Bulgaria in the spring.

At present the military situation in the Balkans is described as "a state of equilibrium." Gen. Sarrail's troops, operating from Salonica, with what aid the Roumanians give on their front, hold the Bulgarians, Turks and Austrians in check. Greece is training and equipping an army of 300,000 men, and will have it ready for action soon. Italy has built military roads eastward through Albania, and is preparing to send a strong force to join in a great drive. Thus the Allies should have a sufficient superiority to smash Bulgaria, at the same time holding off the Turks and Austrians, and thereby cut the German alliance in two.

It isn't likely that Bulgaria's pacific sentiments, under the circumstances, will have much effect. She is due for a good thrashing when the ice melts.

WAR AS PUNISHMENT FOR SINS

(By Associated Press)
Amsterdam, Netherlands, Oct. 18.—In an assertion by Dr. George Meinhof, the German Imperial Chancellor that "God has sent this fearful war as a judgment for our sins," is one of his former utterances that have been widely circulated in Germany and the Netherlands.

The declaration was made by Dr. Meinhof as president of the German Christian Students' Union and was published last year in Die Furche, the organ of that union. It read:

"People who can fully comprehend the economic problems of requisitioning, confiscation and distribution are easily counted; the number of critics is legion. He who judges superficially and openly criticizes without an earnest desire to get right to the foot of the matter, who says or repeats things which depreciate the serious work of the government is acting ungraciously from a patriotic point of view. In the realm of foreign policy there are a multitude of knowalls. Insofar as they undermine confidence in the government they are sinning against the Fatherland. Everyone knows from his own experience that success depends on confidence. Everyone may ponder over the fate of his people, but to do this in public without an understanding of things is criminal. Those who earnestly desire to be Christians must see here the warning finger of God. They know that God has sent this fearful war as a judgment for our sins. He who only looks for the sins in others cuts him self off from God's blessed purpose with our nation. When you yourself have become free and happy people, released from all attachments, from mission of the man of the universe, the domination of material things, false rank and class prejudices, free from selfishness and false ambition, and help the German nation to the glorious rebirth, when God can give us peace."

BACK TO THE BREAD KNIFE

"Put the family loaf of bread on the dining table with the bread knife handy, and cut off a slice on request." That's a suggestion from the Cleveland food conservation committee. The chairman explains that one of the chief causes of waste on the American table is the custom of cutting a superfluous number of slices of bread. The slices that are uneaten turn stale quickly, and are likely to be thrown away. "We can save great quantities of wheat," he says, "if everybody will slice the loaf right at the table. I want to see this done even at the big dinners and parties."

Why not? It's a simple and easy thing to do. And it's the natural way. We come by it honestly enough in this country. Most of our mothers and grandmothers used to serve bread in this very same manner. What middle-aged man or woman doesn't remember the big loaf and the knife that mother carried it with at the table? There's sense in it, too, aside from the duty of saving bread. The slices cut off before your eyes is fresher and more appetizing.

And we have plenty of respectable contemporary examples. England started a revival of the same good old practice a year or two ago. Queen Mary herself has a whole loaf served, along with a carving knife, at her royal table—or half a loaf, if there's been some left over from the last meal.

OSGOOD LODGE BUYS LIBERTY BONDS

At the regular meeting of Osgood Lodge, No. 43, I. O. O. F., held last evening it was voted to invest $1000 in Liberty Bonds. This lodge has a number of their members in the service and they will be pleased at their show of patriotism. Two applications for membership were also received at this meeting.

NAVAL RESERVES BREAK UP ANTIWAR RAID ON COLUMBIA

New York, Oct. 18.—Forty Naval Reserves from a Government radio station marched straight through a street assembly of 1000 Columbia University students today and broke up a demonstration planned by the followers of Leon Sampson, expelled from Columbia for his antiwar attitude while a student.

Sampson appeared in an automobile after hand bills had been distributed at Columbia announcing the coming of "our fighting pacifist." The students had surrounded the machine some feeling its occupants.

UNITED STATES SAILOR BOYS WANT A BRASS BAND

(By Associated Press)
Bass American, Plottia in British Waters, Oct. 18.—Uncle Sam's sailors here are asking for a brass band. They want it to play the national anthem morning and evening at the raising and lowering of the colors just as they used to hear it back home. About the only time they have heard the Star Spangled Banner since their arrival in these waters was when it was played on the chimneys of the cathedral here. They may not even again hear it played there because the organist who knows how has just been conscripted into the naval branch of the British military machine.

"The American Bluejacket is intensely patriotic. So is his new found comrade the British tar. But the latter is reminded of his patriotism more often than the American bluejacket because 'God Save the King' is played at the close of every theatrical performance of public function. The American sailors at attention and salutes on occasions like these. He says he would like to do the same thing to the Star Spangled Banner, but he seldom gets the chance.

The Banner, which is the brief way the sailor has of hailing the American anthem is played now and then in the U. S. Naval Men's club house here by the combined string orchestra from the two tenders or mother ships here. But this is not enough and the sailors hold that nothing but a brass band can do justice to the national air and fire him with the proper enthusiasm.

Almost every evening here groups of these youthful sailormen walk along the beach singing. Two of their favorites are, "Don't Ditch the Band That's Feeding You," and "America I Love You." And they never forget "Tipperary," which still is popular alike with British tars and American sailors.

England, asking them to discontinue electric advertising signs of every sort in order that coal may be further conserved.

The report was the outcome of a conference of the leading retail boards yesterday at the State House, at which James J. Storrow, representing the Federal Fuel Board, outlined the plan for further saving of coal and power.

Today the Boston Automobile Dealers Association began sending out requests to all parts of New England and other retail and local Public Safety committees are at work along the same line.

It was noticed today at the Exchange Building, 53 State street, that one elevator had been discontinued and lights on other elevators diminished.

Praise for the Press.

The American press is not in the habit of blowing its own horn. It has more important work to attend to and to this it devotes itself assiduously from year's end to year's end, leaving praise and criticism to the public. Of criticism it receives its full share, some of it just and much of it unjust, but it goes manfully forward with its exacting and responsible task, being swayed neither by praise nor blame, but guided solely, in the vast majority of instances, by a solemn sense of duty to the public which it serves.

The press is a great and powerful institution, the most powerful in the world today. It is a human institution and is consequently not without its imperfections, but as a whole the newspaper press of this country and of all countries is the most potent influence in the shaping and guidance of public opinion there is in the world.

In one of the churches of Boston last Sunday evening a good word for the press of this country was spoken by the pastor, and the praise he gave was well deserved. He said the press should receive the unanimous endorsement of the public for its unselfish and loyal patriotism shown in the Liberty loan publicity and in its voluntary censorship based upon honor. Continuing, the speaker told how thousands of mothers have willingly sent their sons to the front while fathers and sons have volunteered to uphold their country's rights and honor, and all of these have been praised; "but," he added, "I have heard no one praise the press of America for doing its bit."

The speaker then referred to the publicity given the Liberty loans by the press, the value of which amounts to millions of dollars, and highly commended the newspapers which, with few exceptions, have refrained from publishing news which would be detrimental to the successful prosecution of the war. He said that many of the best news stories have been killed under a self-imposed censorship in the interest of a common cause, and closed by declaring that the newspapers of the country deserve the highest praise for what they have done and are doing in this time of world upheaval into which the United States has been drawn against its will.

These words were well spoken and well deserved. The press is to be commended not only for its loyalty, but for the sagacity and ability with which it is fighting the people's battles for justice and liberty throughout the world. It wields a tremendous power in behalf of the masses, not only in this country but all over the world, and when this great struggle ends it will be entitled to its full share in the glory of the victory which must inevitably come to the cause of righteousness and fair play for all.

It is said that the shipments of anthracite coal into New England during the first eight months of this year exceed those for the corresponding period last year by more than 665,000 tons. Yet prices remain high and in many places there is more or less difficulty in getting it. The people can hardly be blamed for beginning to wonder just where they are at.

In view of what happened the other night to two Massachusetts men on their way to the Maine woods for hunting it would seem advisable that "booze" sheriffs of the Pine Tree state should adopt some method to distinguish themselves from highwaymen. It is fortunate that in this instance the mistake did not result in a tragedy.

Painful is the news of the burning of a great quantity of wheat in Brooklyn, N. Y., elevators a few days ago. The much-needed grain is gone and the important question now is, what caused the fire? It is not necessary to indulge in unjust suspicion, but the cause of this fire should be placed beyond doubt if it is possible to do it.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Board of Trade is always an interesting event, and it will be more so than usual this year, as Secretary of War Baker is to be the principal speaker. October 24 will be a big day in Manchester.

People who have been almost persuaded to emigrate to Aroostook county in Maine on account of the plentifulness of potatoes there probably changed their minds when they read recently that the section was well-nigh snowbound.

The new national army is making a record as a liberty bond buyer. It is reported from Washington that it has already taken nearly four million dollars' worth. Here is a pointer for civilians who are hesitating.

Let it not be forgotten that an increase of $7,500 weekly to the payroll at the navy yard means something to the city of Portsmouth.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Wasting Gasoline in Joy-Riding
(From the New York World)
England has adopted drastic measures to prevent the waste of gasoline in joy-riding. By a Government order taking effect Nov. 1, motoring for pleasure is forbidden under penalty. Will it come to this in this country? American automobile owners have twice been officially warned that the oil reserve is decreasing, and they have been earnestly urged to help conserve the supply of gasoline for war uses by individual economies in their consumption of it. It is unnecessary motoring. Is there the slightest evidence that they are heeding the warning? Are any motorists engaging pleasure-riding for patriotic reasons and to save gasoline for military uses. At least there are no surface indications of such self-sacrifice. Is every body who owns a car waiting for someone else to begin? Are motorists proceeding on the theory that they will give up pleasure-riding when everybody has to do so, by order of the Government and on compulsion? That is human nature but not good Americanism.

"Less" Days, More Health
(From the Baltimore Star)
Someone has proposed a "Juncus day." That poor stout lady who doesn't like to be fat should have no trouble in regaining her slender girlish figure if she follows all the "less" days that are proposed.

Must We First Pay in Blood?
(From the Brooklyn Eagle)
President Wilson's proclamation, setting aside Oct. 24 as Liberty Loan Day, focuses attention upon the stupendous task before the country if the second Liberty Loan is to be carried to overwhelming success. It is estimated that $55,000,000 must be subscribed daily between now and the close of the campaign to bring the total up to the mark.

This raises a very grave question. This country is abundantly able to raise such sums. Our resources are greater than any other nation's on earth and we have more millions of inhabitants by nearly half than either England or Germany. And yet we have so far let our second Liberty Loan drag along in a way to threaten failure. There were some seven million subscribers to the last German war loan. Another is now being offered to the people of Germany. What ever may be said of the remaining resources of the enemy, there is reason to believe that the number of subscribers to the present German loan will be much larger than that of American buyers of Liberty Bonds. England, after nearly three years of war, raised a larger sum by popular subscription than we are asked to raise at this time, when our resources have hardly been touched. The difference in the cases of England and Germany and the United States is simply this: The people have learned what war means. They have paid in blood, and they are willing to pay in money to save lives. The question before this country is whether we will have to pay in blood in order to realize that we must pay in money.

There can be no evasion in any case. This war must be carried on and the Government must have money. If the people do not lend their savings to the Government it must, as the final recourse, take what it needs through heavy taxes upon consumers. And while that is being done the cost in blood will go up. Had we lost a half million men in battle there would be no doubt of the response to a call for loan subscriptions. But it must not be said that this great nation held back its dollars until the flower of its manhood was sacrificed. Let us make Liberty Loan Day a great national celebration, but let it be the celebration of the loan's success, rather than a last attempt to arouse the country to its duty.

Where Is the Wheat?
(From the Buffalo Express)
Inability of Buffalo millers to get sufficient quantities of wheat has cut down their grinding to from twenty to forty per cent of capacity. The receipts of wheat at this port in the last three months have run 37,000,000 bushels under receipts in the corresponding period of 1916. Shortage of cars to move crops, scarcity of labor and indifference of farmers as to getting their wheat to market are given as causes.

As to the indifference of farmers it is explained that, knowing what the price of their wheat will be, they need not hurry to market it. The incentive which existed when there was sharp competition among buyers is lacking now. Also, it is said that probably some farmers are slow in moving wheat because they are busy with fall ploughing. They had the fall ploughing to do in other years, so this explanation does not go very far. Whatever is at the bottom of this situation, a remedy should quickly be found by the Food Administration. It is the duty of that body to see that mills are supplied with wheat, for consumers need flour. The mills in this part of the country should be running at capacity. There is plenty of wheat if the Food Administration will get it to them. It will help, of course, to have the mills in the north west cut down production to sixty per cent, as ordered by the Food Administration, but all mills should be producing all the flour they can.

Quit Crying For the Moon
(From the New York Commercial)
Sinn Feiners say they intend "to make English rule absolutely impossible in Ireland." What Ireland needs is such Home Rule as the Irish can agree upon. They can have almost anything on that basis, but the Sinn Feiners are bent upon blocking any plan that they do not originate. The close relations between some professional Irishmen in this country who claim to be Sinn Feiners and the Kaiser's agents cause Americans of Irish and other descent to doubt the good faith of those who give aid and comfort to the Kaiser. There will be no little English rule in Ireland as there is in Canada if the Irish get together and quit crying for the moon.

EGYPTIAN FUEL QUESTION IS SERIOUS

GERMAN EMPIRE HAS BECOME DEPENDENT UPON WOMEN'S LABOR

(By Associated Press)
Rotterdam, Netherlands, Oct. 19.—The German empire to some extent has become dependent on women's labor, declares a German correspondent of the Nieuwe Rotterdam Courant. In the hospitals, at railroad stations, in shops and in offices, even in the most responsible positions, the work is principally done by women. In even first class restaurants girls have replaced the waiters. The traveler who enters a hotel encounters a porter in long skirts who carries out his baggage as quickly as before. Street traffic is largely in the hands of the women. Women conductors, drivers and inspectors and dressed in the uniform of their male colleagues but with skirt or bloomers. Passengers meet with better treatment than was the case with the male staff. On the railroads women are serving in booking offices, as guards on the trains, or porters. Letters and telegrams are delivered by women and girls. Most of the few automobiles are driven by women. But the main work of women is in the factories. The skilled work has now more and more passed into their hands as well as the carrying of heavy loads. At the turning bench, at the furnaces, everywhere they are met with. Their wages at 7 or 8 marks a day are equal to men's earnings for like labor. They work in blue smock frocks and bloomers with a sort of sailor's cap or smock on their heads, with black hands and rolled up sleeves and in the meal hour they are more and more to be seen in the street, even with bare legs, for stockings are a superfluity in factories, at the furnaces and such like operations. The result of women's work in the industry are termed very satisfactory. The sorting of sweepings, old iron and brass, the unloading of freight cars is performed by women's hands and arms, and a newcomer is amazed at the way in which she clammers about and lifts and shoulders loads. In agriculture women have always supplied auxiliary labor, but now also do the heavy work like mowing, plowing and threshing. Dress has naturally been brought into accord with the new work. On the railroads and partly on the street cars, skirts have been replaced by bloomers and gaiters, and beribboned and feathered hat or cap or headcloth. But there is a sailor collar for the uniform jacket and a flower in the buttonhole; the jacket is open at the neck, the cap is worn in a slanting fashion, a watch chain is fastened on the breast, a bit of lace adorns the sleeves.

HOLLAND'S MUCH-COVED GOLD DECLINED WITH THANKS IN SWEDEN

The Hague, Netherlands, Oct. 19.—The position of Holland is beginning to show an uncomfortable resemblance to that of Midas, at whose touch everything turned into gold. Instead of the urgently needed goods, more and more gold, not to mention $200,000,000 worth of credit paper has been sent to Holland by her belligerent neighbors. This is far more than she can employ, with the result that the gold stocks of the Netherlands bank have quadrupled since the outbreak of war amounting now to some $250,000,000. This means that the central banks directly callable liabilities, in the form of banknotes and current account balances are backed by gold to the extent of 77 per cent, which compares with only 17 per cent in Germany. "That of what use are our big gold reserves?" Hollanders are beginning to ask. "If our productive capacity is being more and more reduced, ever more businesses are being brought to entire or partial standstill for lack of raw materials or coal, workmen dismissed, the supply of foodstuffs cut off and our colonies, one of the nation's mainstays, likewise hard pressed by the prevailing circumstances." If he need further evidence that the world has turned upside down, the Hollanders may find it in the curious fact that his normally much coveted gold is declined with thanks in Sweden, whose gold exports to Spain are impossible on account of the obstacles in the way of shipment. The unpleasant result is that the Swedish exchange has risen. Holland's exports thither are too small to balance her imports from Sweden. Nothing would appear more logical than to pay in gold for the excess imports but the Swedish banks refuse to accept it. From practically the commencement of the war the Swedish government has taken the standpoint that it wants goods paid for in goods, the population needing foodstuffs and other necessities rather than gold. Hollanders are beginning to feel the strange limitation which has been placed on the powers of gold. Holland's national debt which stood at $140,000,000 before the war, has nearly doubled in the past three years. The added burden amounts to date to $220,000,000. It is expected to go on mounting so long as the war continues and an army of some quarter of a million has to be kept on a war footing as well as big sums spent on the provision of cheap food and other necessities for the people.

PAPER STRING IS USED FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 19.—"Paper string is being used for commercial purposes everywhere now," says a report of the Board of Trade. "Even tissue paper can be used in its manufacture. With regard to textiles paper is being used for making sacks for commercial use in place of hessian and these have been found to equal the former sacks in every way. Paper shoes are being manufactured on a small scale in England, the paper being used for the uppers. The material is plaited paper closely woven somewhat similar to that used in the manufacture of paper hats. Paper fibre is also used in making a cheap grade of imitation felt hats for the men. Discussing the measures taken during the past year by Germany to deal with the growing shortage of clothing, the Board of Trade Gazette says: "Much of the clothing now worn throughout Germany, including military uniforms, is made from materials obtained in varying degrees with substitutes such as paper and cellulose. The warmth and wearing qualities of which are doubtful as compared with materials spun, woven or knitted wholly from wool and cotton."

CAPTURED U-BOAT TO HELP LIBERTY LOAN

New York, Oct. 19.—A German submarine captured by the British will soon be on view in New York. It arrived in three sections in the hold of an English steamship Wednesday, and was unloaded Thursday to be assembled in Central Park as an exhibit to the Liberty Loan drive. The Liberty Loan committee announced that the submarine was the U-65 of the mine-laying type, caught laying mines in the North Sea by a British destroyer in April, 1916. It was obtained by the committee through the courtesy of the British government and the co-operation of Lord Northcliffe, head of the British campaign in the United States. The craft is 110 feet long, 11 feet in beam and has a displacement of 200 tons. She has capacity and machinery for laying 12 mines. She carried no guns or torpedo tubes. The craft when placed in Central Park will be used as a Liberty Loan Bond selling booth, and only those who have bought a bond will be allowed to inspect the craft.

NORWAY HAS SUSTAINED BIG SHIPPING LOSS MAKE CLAIMS FOR DESTRUCTION OF OIL WELLS

(By Associated Press)
Christiania, Oct. 19.—Norway's total shipping losses since the beginning of the war now stand as follows: 497 steamers of 777,000 tons; 160 sailing ships of 155,000 tons; number of lives lost 638. The net reduction in the Norwegian mercantile marine this year is 319 ships aggregating 515,000 tons. James W. McMillen passed Friday with friends in York.

TELLS PLOT TO KILL 'DOC' COOK

Assassin Was Then to Impersonate Him and Lead Revolution in India.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, and a crew of 19 sailors were among those marked for assassination by the leaders directing the alleged plot to foment a revolution in India to embarrass Great Britain during the war. This was the testimony given by Sukumar Chatterji, a Hindu priest, in Judge Landis' court at yesterday's session of the trial of Gustav H. Jacobson, wealthy Chicago real estate dealer, and his three co-defendants, charged with the conspiracy. Wholesale murder and the kidnapping of numerous persons was part of the program outlined, the witness testified. This part of the plot, Chatterji said, was revealed to him in Manila by George Paul Boehm, one of the defendants. "Boehm said that he had planned to kill Capt. Cook and his crew, who were to make an expedition in the vicinity of the Himalaya Mountains," said the witness. "Boehm was then to assume the name of Capt. Cook and the other men in our party were to assume the names of the other sailors, who were to be killed. I protested. It was Boehm's plan to go through India under the guise of an explorer and foment a revolution among the natives against Great Britain."

The witness came to this country in 1912 to study journalism, but later was induced to take part in the alleged plot by Gupta, one of the defendants. He told of meetings, held in San Francisco in 1915, at which plans for the alleged plot were discussed, and of going to Manila with the alleged conspirators. The witness later was arrested with others and brought back to this country for trial.

In cross-examination, Chatterji admitted he had been imprisoned for six months in solitary confinement in India before he confessed and was brought here. Capt. Thomas J. Tunney of the neutrality bureau of investigation, of the New York police department, testified to an alleged confession made to him by Hiranbha Lal Gupta in New York, March 10, 1917, and his testimony was corroborated by George C. Barnett, a New York detective sergeant.

"He told me that Capt. von Pape, the military attaché of the German embassy in the United States, paid him between $15,000 and $16,000 in a suite of offices in lower Broadway," said Capt. Tunney. "He said he received the money in six or seven payments and it was to be used in making a trip to the Orient. He said later he went to China and Japan and purchased firearms and ammunition for use in the revolution in India. Gupta told me that Von Pape said he would buy additional fire arms and ammunition in the United States and ship it to the Orient by way of the South Seas. Gupta told me he returned to this country in June, 1916, after having been followed by detectives all over China and Japan. He said that while in Japan he was given protection on one occasion in the home of a high public official. "He told me the headquarters of the conspiracy was in Berlin."

YOUNG OFFICER VARIES STORY OF DEVASTATION

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 19.—A letter written by a young officer in the fighting line in Flanders, sent to the Times varies the story of devastation daily transmitted from the front. The writer said: "The other day we took over from a well known Scottish regiment, whose reputation for making themselves comfortable was well known throughout the division, and when I went to examine my future abode I found everything up to the standard which I had anticipated. Standing on an oak table in the middle of the dug-out was a shell-case filled with flowers, and these not ordinary blossoms, but Madonna lilies, hyacinths and roses. After having duly appreciated this most unexpected corner, I inquired where the flowers had been gathered and was told they had come from the utterly ruined village of Pampouss close by. I set out to explore. Sure enough, between piles of bricks, shell holes, dirt and every sort of debris, suddenly a rose in full bloom would smile at me and a lily would wave its delicate scent and seem to say how it had defied the destroyer and all its frightfulness. Among innumerable shell holes there was a small patch of ground absolutely carpeted with buttercups, over which blazed bright and red poppies intermingled with the bluest of cornflowers. Here was a really glorious corner and how quickly came memories of home."

PATRIOTIC MASS MEETING VERY ENTHUSIASTIC

Eloquent Address by Ex Governor Walsh of Mass.—Red Cross Nurse Tells Story

A Patriotic Mass Meeting, rightly described the gathering of the citizens of this city and surrounding towns, who filled the Portsmouth Theatre to its capacity, and stood up several deep in the rear on Thursday evening, to listen to messages of what the country needs and especially the great need of the awakening of the people to the fact that we are at war with a powerful and dangerous enemy, an idea that everybody in this country has got to enlist and do their bit in this great fight for liberty, justice and decency.

The meeting arranged by the Public Safety Committee, was a wonderful success, both in the great attendance, the enthusiasm shown, and the speakers, and it is hoped that it has caused an awakening here that will be worthy of the efforts of the brilliant speakers. A Portsmouth audience never listened to a more eloquent or patriotic speech than that delivered by the Hon. David I. Walsh, ex-governor of Massachusetts. He said that in the beginning that he would not make a speech, simply say a few words, but before he finished there was none within hearing who would not term it an oration and a classic at that.

Previous to the meeting the naval band from the U. S. S. Montana, rendered a fine concert on Market Square and then headed a procession to the hall, and rendered several selections before the program was started. This band, so generously loaned for patriotic affairs, is a fine musical organization.

The audience was a representative one of this city, including the members of the U. S. A. R., old veterans, who thoroughly enjoyed the meeting, officers from the navy yard and fort.

Mayor Samuel T. Ladd presided and in opening the meeting said in part:

"We are here tonight, to listen to the discussion of the burning topics of the day, for they are burning to the hearts of every true American. Such times as these this generation will never see again and we all fervently hope that the world will never see such a crisis. It is true with a nation as well as it is with men, that there comes a day when it takes all of the reserve force it has to accomplish the end. That time has come to the people of this country, and Old Glory, and that what she stands for in liberty, justice and fairness, is now asking of you, of the people of the country, the support that is so necessary for the attainment of the victory that must be secured. Today she is asking that you loan—not give—her that financial support, so necessary for the conduct of this great enterprise." He introduced Mrs. W. H. Schofield of Portsmouth, head of the Woman's Liberty Loan committee and a woman who has worked hard for every patriotic event.

Mrs. Schofield spoke of the Liberty Loan, its great need and she described the nature of the work that was being carried on by the National Defense League and what part the women of the country were taking in this great work. She paid a high tribute to the work being done by Mrs. Mary I. Wood of this city the chairman of the food conservation committee.

A double male quartette rendered in a fine manner "To This O' Country," and singers composed of the Aedon and Lyric Quartettes, added a great deal to the success of the meeting. Their selections were most appropriate and later they sang an original composition entitled "Far Away Over France," which also made a great hit. The singers were: First tenors, Arthur L. Hatfield, Ernest Cook; second tenors, Oren Shaw and J. W. Mitchell; first bass, Ernest Hillbrook; Freeman Caswell; second bass, Roy Ward and Ira A. Newell.

The next speaker was Miss Katharine B. McMahon, a Red Cross nurse who has been in the front and saw service in the hospitals in France, England and Italy. Miss McMahon appeared in her Red Cross uniform and she made a striking figure on the stage. She is a fluent speaker and held the large audience at the closest of attention. She was one of the seventy-five nurses who with thirty-five physicians made up the first Harvard unit that went to France early in the war and she lived through all of the introduction of the dreadful invention of the Germans, the liquid fire and the poison gas. Her first assignment was to the American hospital back of the English lines in Flanders, with 1075 beds, on the very spot she said that the American army is now in training. She gave a vivid picture of the arrival of the wounded after the first big battle, and especially after the first battle in which the liquid fire and poison gas were used, the horrible burned condition of the men, which, she said, left not a dry eye among nurses or physicians in the entire hospital. She showed a gas mask and described advance of the Germans, who she termed good long distance fighters but cowardly when it comes to the use of the bayonet and close fighting.

After serving in France for several months she went to England to the base hospitals and described the work being done there and in France where men are actually being rebuilt and of the wonderful surgery that is being done. American physicians have a big hand in this great work and she said that we may be assured that the American boys will all be sure of the very best medical attention. She also served for a time in the American Ambulance in Paris and she paid a high tribute to the women of Europe and of their great courage. She also spoke of her visit to the hospitals in Italy and also of the exchange camps in Switzerland.

She asked how many of the women in the audience were members of the Red Cross, what were they doing to relieve the sufferings of the boys in the war and she made a very earnest plea that every woman should make some sacrifice and do her bit in this great war.

Ex-Gov. Walsh, when introduced received a wonderful greeting, the audience applauding and cheering for several minutes, so much so that he said that if he had not remembered having a ticket for Portsmouth he would still think himself in Massachusetts. He expressed his appreciation of the greeting and said that he would talk but briefly. "On the fifth day of April our Government declared war on Germany. No matter what any body thought on or before that day of Germany, Austria, England or France no matter what their sentiment, the moment we declared war, there became only one issue, whether Germany or the United States would win. It was a war, both cannot win, it will not be a draw, some one of these two countries will be successful, which will it be? The country will win whose men, women and children make the greatest sacrifice." He said that some day a statue would be erected, no greater scene of greater moment in the world's history less it be the crucifixion, in some part of Europe, there will be hauled down a flag in disgrace, honor and defeat, and another will be raised in honor and in victory and we want that flag to be that of the United States. It is inconceivable, said, that any other scene shall take place and that the flag that has not been defeated for 141 years, that has stood for all that is good in life shall not wave in triumph at the end of this war.

He asked what man who on leaving his mother or sister had been insulted, did not rush and ask what could he do to avenge the insult. Now your mother country has been insulted and we should stretch forth our hands and ask what can we do to avenge this insult. The answer will come back: Build! Build! He emphasized that there are two forms of enlistment, that of the boys who have gone to France and those preparing to go, to fight on foreign soil and make their supreme sacrifice of even life for the country. Or there is the enlistment to support the boys of the front by seeing that they had everything to fight with, this was a duty just as important as the actual fighting, and a duty that every man, woman and child could enlist in. Here he stopped to pay a very pretty tribute to Mrs. Schofield, a previous speaker. He said that she had not mentioned the fact that she had two sons in the first line trenches in France. Boys brought up in the lap of luxury, education and with every advantage that money and a good mother could provide, had stepped for and at the first call and had offered themselves for their country and their mother had urged them on and herself had taken her place with the active workers, devoting all of her time to this great work.

He described the departure of the boys of this country for the front, either bare of music, but in the darkness, with coaches dark and with curtains drawn, they steal away from their camps to some harbor and board transports in the night for the sea journey. He likened it to their going into a mist, which holds them hidden until they come back after all is over, and then and not before then, all we know what they have done and those who have made the supreme sacrifice of life.

He described the start of the war, like that of a fire in a house that starts in one corner, spreads through the room, then over the house and to the surrounding houses, until the town is afire such was the way the war had started, until it had gained such a dreadful headway that it had leaped the Atlantic ocean to this country. A war that for cruelty, frightful inventions etc., the world had never known. He said that we are to fight a powerful enemy, that is far from beaten, in fact it is well known that if we had not entered the war when we did it would have been victorious, a country with the most powerful military organization the world has ever known.

He then spoke at some length on the Liberty bond, and said that if this loan failed, if it were not over-subscribed, it would place a stain on the flag that will never come off. If our boys are willing to make this great sacrifice, then the least we can do is to loan the government that money that is so essential to the success of the war. The government does not demand of us like it did the boys, but almost begs us to loan them money, and at a rate of interest that makes it a good investment. The Liberty bond is a link that connects us with the boys in the front trench. He was very eloquent when he described the sacrifice of the women of France and of the great hardships that the people of Europe were undergoing and said that he was confident that the people of this country would stand in the trench with the boys and remain firm until Liberty and Justice had been assured to the world and for all times.

The entire audience led by the band and the double quartette rendered two verses of America and the meeting closed with an informal reception on the stage to Ex-Gov. Walsh and the other speakers.

The following are the words of the selection sung by the double quartette which were written by two of the members: Far away off in France, amid the shot and shell There's the place where our thoughts all turn tonight Where the guns flash and rear upon the battlefield There's the place where our boys have gone to fight.

Chorus. Cheer for the boys of the U. S. A. For fondly they love it still They will fight and die and die Till victory is won Three cheers for our boys far away. There's a place in each town where all can do their bit To help their country's men and name Buy a Liberty bond and boost the U. S. A. The land that has never known a shame.

POTSDAM AND THE PRESIDENT

It will be recalled that President Wilson's reply to the Pope's peace note appeared in the German paper over the Kaiser's head, was followed by a flood of resolutions addressed to the Kaiser by various commercial and political bodies throughout northern Germany. Those resolutions were pretty much alike. The full text of some of the most noteworthy have now reached this country. Here is an extract from the resolutions of the town council of Potsdam:

"Filled with contempt, our citizens turn aside from the shameless hypocrite who seeks to hide behind high-sounding idealism his anxiety about the blood-money which he has advanced to his English colleagues in ideas and in business, and who in his blindness dares to suggest to the German people that Germany should come to the help of her impotent enemies by cutting herself to pieces.

"The crafty hypocrite, Wilson, who, with the simple impudence of an uneducated parvenu, has the insolence to interfere in our domestic affairs, may be assured that none but fools will believe that our pitiless enemies are giving us good advice when they try to embitter our domestic unity. The more they abuse our Kaiser and our government, the more highly will our people appreciate the full value of Kaiser and government, which nothing could replace. Standing firmly and loyally together, Kaiser and people will enforce the peace which we need.

"The German people, whose deep-based education in all spheres has led the van of human civilization for centuries—long before the United States of North America existed—and whose moral and technical ability are surpassed by no other people, can, if it were really necessary, starve and die, but can never bow their neck before a victorious enemy. Let Herr Wilson take note of that."

This, the reader will note, sounds wonderfully like the habitual effusions of a certain eminent resident of Portsmouth named Wilhelm Hohenzollern. Perhaps it was inspired by local, as well as national, patriotism.

Unfortunately for the Potsdam councilors, however, events have failed to support their heroic assertions. Since they sent this eloquent and elegant message of German unity to the Kaiser, we have had news of an insurrection in the German navy and a widespread though as yet peaceful revolt against the government. The Kaiser's hand-picked ministry is assailed from all sides. The chancellor is marked for a fall, and not a hand is held out to save him. The head of the navy department has already resigned. It has been necessary to dissolve the Reichstag for two months to keep it from halting the government. The German Socialists are getting back their nerve and growing stronger every day.

But maybe Potsdam hasn't heard of it yet. It takes time for anything to percolate through a "deep-based" Potsdam brain.

SITUATION IN SERBIA SUMMED UP BY THE SOCIALIST PARTY

London, Oct. 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The situation in Serbia today is summed up in a communication received by the British Socialist Party from the Executive Committee of the Serbian Socialists. It says:

"The Serbian population in the portions of our country occupied by Austria-Hungary is now 2,183,000, according to official census figures published in the Official Journal at Belgrade. The population normally would have been 2,370,000. There is, therefore, a reduction of 187,000, or 8 per cent. The male population has been reduced by 38 per cent. There are now in Serbia 144 women to 100 men."

"In the districts occupied by Bulgarians the reduction in population is 300,000."

"The October 1916, the Austrian Red Cross Society, declared in the Vienna Parliament in June 26, 1916, that the Serbian population will no longer be able to sustain the war, and that these words are being proved by the greatest" crime committed in this war, the deportation of 30,000 Serbian women, children and men from the departments of Vranje, Nish and Pirot, and their internment in Asia Minor. Among these 30,000, there were 8,000 women and young girls delivered over to the Turks. Of these a great number committed suicide by throwing themselves out of the trains conveying them to Asia Minor."

"The deaths among war prisoners and those interned are put at from 60,000 to 80,000. After the retreat from Serbia and the reconstitution of the Serbian army, about 29 per cent died at Corfu. Our losses on the Salonika front have been about 50 per cent of the Serbian forces which have taken part in the operations of General Serbelli's armies."

"Sixty thousand families in Serbia require succor this winter. They have no means of living except the little that we can send to them. Their sufferings during the approaching winter will be very severe."

FORMER EMPEROR TRAVELS IN SECRET

Harbin, Manchuria, Oct. 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The journey of Nicholas Romanoff, formerly Emperor of Russia, from Tsaritsyn to Tobolsk, which was accomplished without the knowledge of soldiers and civilians along the railway zone which he passed, is described in detail by a prominent Russian now in Harbin, who has personal knowledge of the secret trip.

"Because of the feeling against the Romanoff family it was not advisable to use the former Emperor's own train. Instead three ordinary first class sleeping cars were provided for M. Romanoff, his family and their attendants. Three hundred soldiers also accompanied the party."

"The train started from Tsaritsyn very early in the morning of August 15. M. Kerensky, the Russian premier, personally bade the former imperial family good-bye."

"The journey required five days. At stops at stations were as short as possible, and the members of the party kept concealed while at large stations. Every evening after dinner the train stopped for an hour at some wayside station or remote village that Nicholas and his family might have an opportunity to exercise. Throughout the trip he seemed to be in the best of health, and took an interest in his surroundings. He was extremely agreeable to all the members of the party."

"The former Empress, Alexandra, remained in her apartment throughout the journey, where meals were served to her and her son Alexis. She had the appearance of a woman suffering from nervous prostration."

"All the four former grand duchesses were in excellent health and seemed to be in lively spirits every day. All had their heads shaved, a practice popular with Russian women today in order to make their hair grow better. Little Alexis, although limping slightly, apparently had recovered from his recent illness."

"At Yasnogorsk, a Siberian city, where anarchist agitators hold sway the railroad station for three days had been crowded with soldiers, who were anxious to capture the imperial family but when the troops learned where Nicholas and his family were being sent, they discontinued their hostile demonstration."

"Tobolsk is the capital of the province of the same name, and was formerly the ancient capital of old Siberia. It has been an important refuge for political exiles for many years, and Nicholas and his family are quartered in a building originally erected for exiles and recently altered."

"Rasputin, the monk who figured tragically in the downfall of the Romanoffs, was born in the province of Tobolsk and erected a monastery in the capital."

"To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside, no sour bile to eat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head, no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or grassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well known physician."

"To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach."

"Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation."

"To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water acts on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast acts on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels."

MUTINY BREAKS OUT IN AUSTRIAN NAVY

Washington, Oct. 18.—Official diplomatic despatches received here today report mutinies in the Austrian navy and clashes between the Austrian sailors and crews of the German submarine fleet at Pola, in which officers on both sides have been killed and which resulted in a decision to change the base of the German flotilla.

Despite the attempts of the Austrian admiralty to suppress the news, it reached here today, coming by way of Berlin. The Austrian crews are said to have revolted under the treatment of officers and had fast, while the clash with the German submarine crews was caused by the overbearing conduct of the latter.

Sanguinary Fighting

The despatches say the tension between the Austrian and German crews became so alarming that extraordinary measures were taken to prevent a recurrence of the fighting between them, which included the decision to move the German submarine fleet from the Austrian base at Pola to a point further south on the Adriatic. The fighting between the two sets of crews is described as having been sanguinary.

This news of mutiny in the Austrian navy, received in the capital today, almost at the same time as the Austrian despatches reporting further mutinies in the German navy—this time among submarine crews, created a profound impression among American naval officers and among other officials who have been watching the situation with expectation since the first mutinies in the German fleet were reported a few days ago.

The first signs of mutiny in the German fleet were regarded as most significant since, unlike the army, it has endured little of the hardship of campaigning. Despatches from abroad, however, confirm the opinion of American naval officers that it probably was due in part at least to the drafting of seamen for submarine crews, a service which has come to hold terrors for the German seaman because of the inflexible British policy of never making any announcement whatever of the fate of captured or lost crews of the German submarine fleet. This suspense as to the fate of comrades who go out never to be heard of again was expected to undermine the morale of the navy.

Clashes between German and Austrian crews are reported in naval circles here as adding much significance to the situation, particularly when considered in the light of the extreme situation of Austria, whose fighting forces are at the point of exhaustion.

Washington, Oct. 18.—American nurses who have married their patients will be asked to abandon romance and return to hospitals to help with the war.

"It will be but a short time," said a Red Cross official today, "until the demand for nurses will be enormous. We will call on those whose location we know who have fallen in love with and married their patients, to come back and serve in the country's time of need."

Those who answer will not be asked to go to the front. They will replace the thousands of regular nurses taken to the front from hospitals and sanatoria at home.

The Red Cross has carefully catalogued and card indexed the nurse situation. Official figures today showed that of 80,000 graduate nurses in the country 5000 already are in active war service at home or abroad.

Fourteen thousand others in hospitals and private nursing, or married as the result of hospital romances, have volunteered subject to government call.

The Red Cross patriotic appeal will

COAL NEEDED IN NEW ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 18.—National fuel and priority board, were today urged to relieve the coal shortage in New England and not hinder the great mass of government workers under way, by the Governors of New England and Public Service Commissions in session here.

"Our only hope," said one of these today, "is that an eventual shortage may compel the government to draft nurses."

This at present is unlikely, he said

BIG LOAN DRIVE AT NEWMARKET

Patriotic Meeting Held at Town Hall Following Spectacular Parade.

Newmarket, Oct. 18.—The big drive for the liberty loan last evening was one of the largest demonstrations ever seen in the town. Bells ringing and the fire alarm blowing, announced the starting of the Boy Scout drive. The parade consisted of the several organizations in town as follows: Marshal John E. Barrett, bugles from Camp Stark, platoon of police, G. A. R. Veterans, Charles Chipman with colors, Newmarket Cornet Band, Catholic Order of Foresters, Bishop Construction company, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Improved Order of Red Men, American Federation of Labor, Spirit of '76 and Boy Scouts, autos containing chairman of selection, Matthew T. Kennedy, Postmaster Dr. Charles A. Morse, Major Robert J. Johnson and Wilfred J. Lessard of Manchester.

The parade was interspersed with posters bearing the following inscriptions: "Stand Behind the Men Behind the Guns," "If You Can't Fight, Buy," "Don't Cheer the Kaiser, Buy a Bond," "If You Can't Go Across, Come Across," and "Soldiers Give Their Lives Others Lead Their Money."

The parade proceeded to the Town hall where the following program was carried out:

Large call, announcement and reading of letters, M. T. Kennedy, chairman of selection; flag salute and scout oath, song, Star Spangled Banner, by scouts and piano; remarks, Charles Stevens; presentation of medals, Dr. Charles A. Morse; response, Rev. William Ramsden; cheers, scouts; remarks, Major Robert J. Johnson; song, Keep the Home Fires Burning, by scouts and piano; remarks, Mrs. Wilfred Lessard; song, America, piano and assembly; exit, march, band.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe, colds and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stuff up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as Pape's Cold Compound, which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

MUSICAL LETTER From Dr. Goodall

It is a well-known fact that Dr. Goodall has been prominent in musical societies, choirs, cantatas and public concerts and lectures for the past 40 years. He has retained his health and vigor and his robust baritone and tenor voice is now well developed and full of resonance, so that he offers his services to the public as a leader, director or presenter, to organize and drill choirs and choruses (large or small) for musical societies or public concerts. Dr. Goodall can also be engaged to supply in quartet choirs either at tenor, baritone or first base, also as soloist for concert work. He solicits especially engagements for campaign songs, patriotic, comic, war songs, best of classic songs, college songs, national songs of all nations, slave and jubilee songs, temperance and Grange songs, Grand Army songs, concert songs, descriptive songs. Our repertoire consists of 700 dear old songs, secular and sacred, home songs, heart songs, children's songs, story songs and historical songs.

Dr. Goodall has had nearly 50 years of service in church music, both choirs and choruses, and can show church music committees and ministers how to get the best music at a moderate cost, which will fill up the empty seats quickly. There is nothing in this world, in my judgment, which will attract and bring happiness to so many people, young or old, as good music.

Dr. Goodall can also be engaged by ministers or church committees to supply pupil or sing special Gospel Hymns or solos.

As soon as he sets out his office and dental business he will devote all his time to music teaching, vocal music and voice placing for both ladies and gentlemen, also diaphragmatic or deep breathing, which is essential for singers, and is also hygienic and a promoter of health. Call on him now and make appointments for private lessons day or evening.

Dr. Goodall is well prepared by 45 years of diligent Bible study and many years of Y. M. C. A. work to preach the Gospel as well as to sing the Gospel on the Lord's Day. He has made arrangements with the Ministers' Association through Mr. Percy Caswell, secretary of this association, to supply churches in the county or city whenever opportunity offers. So many ministers have enlisted and gone to the war that over 50 per cent of new students are lacking and there is an urgent need for help now, so Dr. Goodall will be now recognized as the "Singing Evangelist," singing my several hundred Gospel Hymns and classics and old hymns from the best authors, whenever occasion offers.

NOTICE CAREFULLY.—Until Dr. Goodall sells out his office and dental business he will attend to all his patients in dentistry as usual, but it would be well for those patrons to make engagements with him directly or they will lose this opportunity now offered.

IMPORTANT QUESTION DISCUSSED

London, Oct. 18.—The question, should marriage by proxy be legalized in Great Britain for the special benefit of men at the front, now is being discussed at great length in the newspapers. France has already made this war time concession, and the Australian government has called a conference of churchmen and others to consider the adoption of a proxy form of marriage between Australians at the front and women in Australia.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 18.—Liberty loan report up to nine o'clock Thursday shows sales of $10,762,000 and a total for the city of $13,500,000 or a gross total for New England of $115,835,000. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge today told the Loan Committee that everybody must take their share not only of this loan but of future loans if the credit of the country was to be maintained.

DON'T PAY MORE FOR SUGAR

Washington, Oct. 18.—Forecasting no relief before December for the sugar shortage in the east, the food administrator today renewed its appeals for economy and asked the public not to pay a cent more than it has been paying.

Herbert Hoover will try to reach retailers who advance their price on sugar by cutting off their supply through the license control already in effect over refiners. The refiners cannot advance the price to the retailers. The sugar costs the retailer no more today. Therefore, according to Hoover the retailer should not take advantage of the shortage to boost prices. The food control law, however, gives Hoover no more direct control over retail prices.

"The refiner's price should enable retailers today to sell sugar around 9 cents per pound," said Hoover.

The present shortage is due to the "failure of the American public generally to reduce consumption and to unusually large exports to France which is in grave need of sugar."

ANARCHY ON THE INCREASE IN RUSSIA

London, Oct. 18.—The Daily Mail's Petrograd correspondent, telegraphing Saturday, Oct. 13, declares there is a steady growth of anarchy in Russia. The news from the provinces grows worse daily. The Petrograd papers are printing short telegrams of events in the country under the headline "Anarchy." The rioting at Kharkov led to the attack on the monopoly of a spirit refinery. Fifty ringleaders were arrested. In Astrakhan and other places similar stores were sacked and fired. In the districts of Mohileff and Saratoff peasants are seizing the land and manor houses. These are samples of "one morning's" telegrams. Things are little better in Petrograd. The militia is seeking 15,000 criminals known to be loose in the capital. At evil resorts and night clubs gambling is enormously increasing and the scandals often end in shootings. The daily list of robberies in the streets is growing. The elections in Moscow for the Regional Dumas on the whole show large extremist gains, but only about 30 per cent of the electors went to the polls. By abstaining from voting the majority of the population demonstrates its disgust and despair at the present state of things. The situation will improve only when the vast present passive masses are driven to assert themselves. The Petrograd food position is slightly improved.

Serious troubles have broken out in Hesarabia. A number of pogroms have occurred on estates of landlords. Riots have also occurred in towns, especially at Tiraspol, where spirit stores were set on fire, the flames spreading to adjacent houses. Conflicts followed between troops and rioters in towns where the population is stated to be suffering from hunger. The wine stores of landlords, now replenishing from the vintage, have been broken into by mobs of peasants and soldiers.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—The Japanese government has decided to station a permanent financial commissioner at New York City and has appointed Sho Den to the position. Similar posts will be created in other leading world centers.

Amsterdam, Oct. 18.—The German Emperor has sent the following telegram to the Kythausen Federation of German Landeskriegs Unions:

"I beg you to transmit my thanks and greetings to the representatives of the unions for their renewed pledge of loyalty. The spirit cultivated in the Krieger clubs of joyous, self-sacrificing comradeship and death-defying loyalty to Emperor and Empire has strongly approved itself in hard wartime on the battlefields and at home. 'The Fatherland' is proud of its young and old warriors. They will stand there against all hostile attacks and criminal attempts to introduce disunion into the ranks of its German people in arms, indissolubly to its ancestral purpose."

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of lotion. The most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier. Just try it! Make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

WILL STRIKE AT SQUANTUM DESTROYER PLANT TODAY

Squantum, Mass., Oct. 18.—Following request for support by the local building trades, union linemen, cable splicers and telephone installers employed on the new $9,000,000 ship-building plant being erected by the Government for the Fore River Shipbuilding Company at Squantum will be called out on strike today, as voted in Boston last night by unions of the craft employed.

U. S. MAY TAKE OVER RUSSIAN RAILROADS

Petrograd, Oct. 18.—The Stevens commission, which is studying Russia's railroad problems, has arranged with the government to take up the transportation difficulties on and near the fighting front. The commission has completed its work in Siberia and tomorrow the members of the commission will go to general headquarters at Mohilev, accompanied by American Ambassador Francis, Foreign Minister Terestchenko, and M. Liverovsky, minister of ways and communications. It is understood the American experts will have the same opportunity of suggestion as in Siberia, where their efforts resulted in a 25 per cent increase in railway capacity.

American military observers who have just returned from the front agree that the transportation question is one of the most important. The morale of the army in the vicinity of Dvinsk they report, is improving steadily, and soldiers are saluting their officers. Death battalions are being formed and there is a good fighting spirit among the troops. Efforts of German soldiers to fraternize are being met with refusal on the part of the Russians.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and a troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HOOSIER Kitchen Cabinet

Over a million women have put an end to long hours of kitchen toil and miles of extra steps. They have let HOOSIER revolutionize their kitchen work. They have taken advantage of the wonderful work-reducing, time-saving features that HOOSIER offers. They now sit comfortably and restfully at their work.

The ideas of the talented women on HOOSIER'S Council of Kitchen Scientists are placed at your service in your kitchen through this wonderful cabinet. Some of their discoveries are built right into the Hoosier. Others come to you in the form of practical suggestions.

The HOOSIER has 40 exclusive features, including the porcelain top that does not rust and is as easy to clean as a china plate. Any one by itself is valuable—but assembled and handily arranged in this cabinet, they represent a wonderful working machine. It puts 400 articles all within arm's reach.

Come in today and pick out your HOOSIER. There is a model that fits both your kitchen and your pocket-book. Prices range from $15.75 to $45.50. You can pay a little down and the balance in easy convenient payments if you so desire.

JOHN S. RAND
RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

Of the Board of Trustees of Portsmouth Hospital; Reports of Work Done During the Year.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Portsmouth Hospital was held Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 17, at the residence of Hon. Woodbury Langdon, for the election of officers and to hear the reports of the hospital work done during the past year.

John S. Rand was re-elected president; Thomas H. Stines, secretary; Lewis E. Staples, treasurer.

The treasurer of current expenses reported that the receipts the past year had been sufficient to pay all bills and that a special deposit from the tag day offering, $1343.72, is on hand to pay for coal, which is to be a heavy charge for the ensuing year.

The superintendent reported: Number of patients admitted during the year, 649; number of infants born, 86; total number of days treatment given patients, 9,652; number of full pay days, 6,861; number of part pay days, 616; number of days treatment free to patients, 2,075.

The training school began the year with 11 pupil nurses. Number of nurses in the school, Oct. 1, 1917, 13; three nurses have graduated from the school and received the diploma of the school. Lectures and class work have been carried on as usual.

Other reports were rendered, all of which were very satisfactory, showing that a good year's work had been done at the Portsmouth Hospital.

HURLED BRICK THROUGH THE CAR WINDOW

William Cummings, aged 21, was arrested on Friday morning and is at the police station booked on the charge of drunkenness. When Cummings faces Judge Cupitt on Friday morning he will undoubtedly face a more serious charge as it is alleged that he hurled a brick through the window of a car of the Portsmouth Street railroad on Thursday afternoon, which barely escaped inflicting injury to a lady passenger. Cummings and a companion named O'Toole, fresh every day, E. Jameson & Sons. Tel. 24.

Baked bean supper at North Church chapel Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. Tickets 35 cents.

Let Paras Bros. supply your fruits. All kinds of best in the market. Telephone, 29W.

The police blotter on Friday morning contained the names of three for drunkenness, two lodgers, one for procuring liquor for enlisted men, and one sick person.

Word was received at police headquarters on Thursday evening from the Manchester police to be on the lookout for an automobile bearing the New Hampshire register 5780 that had been stolen from that city.

SHIPBUILDING
PLANT NOTES

The immense spars for derricks and traveling wire railways are ready for erection. They are the finest specimens seen in these parts since the Civil war.

Chief Boatwain W. L. Hill, U. S. N., was a visitor at the plant today.

LIBERTY BONDS
BANK WINDOW

Liberty Loan Bonds of the $50, $100, $500 and $1000 denominations are displayed in the window of the National Mechanics and Traders Bank on Congress street and attract considerable attention. The bonds are nicely engraved and the $50 bears a likeness of Jefferson, the $100 of Jackson, the $500 of Washington and the $1000 of Lincoln. Besides being very pretty to look at, they are very nice to possess as they draw four per cent interest guaranteed by the U. S. government. Our citizens should take a look at these bonds and see if they are not nice to have as an investment.

SURRENDERED
BY BONDSMEN

Albert O'Toole, charged with the larceny of an automobile, the property of Lieut. Parker, commander of the submarine L-8, was on Friday surrendered by his bondsman, Mr. Small. O'Toole was one of the parties in the electric car disturbance on Thursday evening and it is alleged that he was about to leave the city.

Growing Feet Develop Naturally in These Shoes.

As shoe merchants we feel that we have a particular responsibility to parents. You cannot over-estimate the importance of buying proper shoes for children, for by so doing there is no possibility of foot troubles, later on. Our Orthopedic, natural shape lasts are the only "proper" shoes, for they allow the foot to develop as nature intended. Knight's shoes are orthopedically correct without the loss of good looks or style.
